- Non-buildable Area: Public land
Public Land (4.42%)

Note: There are too many factors to try and account for every scenario. The actual number of building sites will be less. Also, the houses on this map are not placed precisely and may not be shown in actual buildable locations. Rather, they are distributed randomly across the lands that may be deemed buildable under future ordinances.

Note: This map was developed before the Ad Hoc Committees had made their recommendation. It shows a 40 acre density instead of the 35 acre density that the Committees ended up recommending.
